

Thursday 9th November 2017,

L.O. To write a non-chronological report on Mesopotamian Blue cats.

Mesopotamian blues are a type of cat that are ^{sometimes} pet friendly and sometimes they are not.

What do Mesopotamian blues eat and drink

Mesopotamian Blues eat fish eggs that is also known as caviare that is a type of fish in Russia, and meat. You should never feed a Mesopotamian Blue grass.

Mesopotamian Blues drink water only fresh water not red or salty water. Don't give Blues milk, juice and milkshake.

What do Mesopotamian Blues look like

Mesopotamian Blues have green eyes, grey and a bit of white and blue fur.

When Mesopotamian Blues are born they have a blue stripe on their ^{sp} back.

Mesopotamian Blue cat

Mesopotamian Blues are a medium sized cat and they weigh 8-15 pounds. They are a really fluffy and purry cat.

How long do Mesopotamian Blues live?

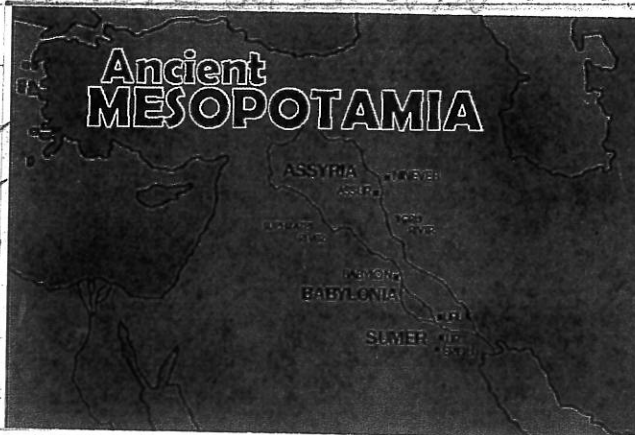

If Blues are ^{sp properly} looked after they should live for about 10-15 years. They are really like a dog in a cat's body.

really kindly.

You will need to give them the correct food the correct drink a room around a place to sleep a toy mouse and things like that.

Where do Mesopotamian Blues live

originally originally originally originally

^{Blues} Mesopotamian Blues ^{originally} lived in Mesopotamia but now they or some live in loads of different countries.

[A map of Mesopotamia]

Mesopotamia is a place near Syria ^{which} is now a desert. Most Blues do live in Mesopotamia though.

which
which which which

What do Mesopotamian Blues do

Please finish. → SPAG

Mesopotamian Blues like to hunt, sleep, eat, drink and do a lot of other things. They can also be taught ^{sp} tricks.

taught

Blues can also be found grooming themselves and trying to sniff out any sort of food that they would be interested in.
✓ Good ☺

Did you know

Mesopotamian Blues need to be fed twice a day until they are around 7 or 8 months old.

✓ Much better

Tuesday 26th September 2017

L.O. To use our notes to write a report on plastic in the environment.

Report Writing

Plastic Pollution

Introduction

Plastic is one of the 20th century's most important inventions and has saved ^{sp} lives. However, there is an increasing problem with waste plastic in the environment. People need to start throwing plastic in the recycling bin more often because it is ~~is~~ killing marine life.

What type of plastic?

Blue, yellow, and red plastic is being thrown into the sea but also things like nappies, ^{sp} cold cans, beer holders, plastic bags, and ^{objects} stuff like that are being thrown into the sea.

How does plastic affect wildlife?

All the plastic such as beer holders get stuck around turtles, sea lions and other animals and as the animals get older they will get around the plastic and will probably die. Nearly 400,000 marine mammals die per year.

How does the plastic affect man?

The sea provides over 97 percent of ^{our} water supply and if all the plastic covers all the sea we or some humans could die of thirst.

3 million plastic
what? 30 million
bags of plastic in the sea

How much plastic is in our sea?

There is at least 3 million plastic in the sea per year. You would need 30 million elephants to weigh the same as all the plastic in the sea.

What can we do to stop the plastic?

Some nations including the UK have already banned ~~micro beads~~ because of their impact on the life. Also the Government now say that you have to pay 5p for a plastic bag. We all need to start recycling. ~~Today~~

How does the plastic affect the sea?

What happens is that all the plastic that is thrown into the sea will make the animals think it is food. There are a lot of more ways.

at least Dr. Jenna Temback says that ^{at least} 5 million bags of plastic gets thrown in the sea per year.

Summary

Everyone needs to start recycling otherwise all ^{our} fish may die, can we help in time? How can we help ^{our} marine friends that are maybe in danger? Can we all do it in time can we all work together and start recycling? If we try all of it we can make it so fish don't die per year because of plastic, can we do it? Or is it too late because probably already 200 plastic has been thrown in the sea by now is it too late or can we all save marine life?

Some good points made. Good structure.
→ Spellings please

Monday 30.th October 2017

L.O. To write a newspaper report.

Whale Worries!

Yesterday a young bottlenose whale
swam up into the River-Thames. Scientists think that the whale was ill
and didn't know where he was going.

It is thought
we think the bottle-nose whale will stay in the River-Thames for 1-2 days then he may die or swim back out to sea and find his family.

Finally life guards

got hold of the whale and put him on a big ship to go out to sea and put the
bottlenose whale
back.

Whale is dead, it has been confirmed whale is not moving he is dead.

A whale is trying to get back to sea.

A whale in the Thames

→ Capital letters ✓ Some features used

To write a book review.

This Morning I Met A whale.

This book was written by Michael Morpurgo, and illustrated by Christian Birmingham.

This book is about a boy called
Michael and a bottle-nose whale.
When Michael woke up from bed at about 7 he rushed downstairs and got his telescope and went to look for birds but Michael saw a whale. He went down to see if he was ok. Weidly the whale started to talk and he or she said please can you tell people to stop polluting the sea with plastic. So Michael told people at school about the whale and he even did a story about it.

I think this is a good book but I would rate this book 4 and a half because at the start of the book it was really really interesting but then it just dropped down so that's what I think.

Friday 17th November 2017

L.O. To create the opening paragraph of a story focusing on the setting.

Have you ever found yourself lost in a witchcraft forest with nothing to do? But you noticed something and that thing was a moving house but then you looked down and it was a house probably a magic house. The door had a sign that said PRIVATE! in big bold writing.

Then another branch moved and another and another and kept of going. So you look back over and see another house that exact same is the one behind you but then you looker left a bit and saw a whole entire street of weird but magical types of houses.

Interesting start

Embedded clause

A Jimmy, who had black curly hair, stepped inside of the magical forest, ^{he} Jimmy was just ~~walking around~~ minding his business but then ^{he} Jimmy bumped into a tree, that sadly ripped his pokemon T-shirt. The tree was all crooked, wet and got all moss on it but it had a door a big wooden door. When Jimmy looked around ^{him} ~~there~~ he saw a whole, int. street of the tree houses. Then they all vanished and it was back to the one tree. Jimmy wasn't really bother^d about that but suddenly ^{he} Jimmy heard a creak. So he looked behind him and the old wooden door started to creak open.....

The door finished opening and then in front of Jimmy's very eyes he saw a massive monster. Timmy said to the monster (who are you) the monster said (my name is Tegg) Tegg the monster told Timmy a sad story of when he got abandoned ^{by} his family because he was abandoned too ugly. For some reason tracks of animals abandoned came to Tegg, who was a green and only green abandoned monster, and said weird thing like ~~poor~~ ^{abandoned} in pla. Timmy thinks it is disgusting abandoned dung beetle. Even though the ^{holding} holding green abandoned monster looked ugly in Timmy's point of view he talked nice on the inside. Like most people.

Once all the animals left the tree house or the house that was a mossy, damp tree. Timmy went inside of the tree. But when Tegg and Timmy went upstairs - grey, and black, clothed robes stayed inside of the tree that was a mossy old and damp's door. They held the door open so that it wouldn't close and then slide up of the green monster's joint. Timmy and Tegg the monster came back downstairs because he wanted to show Timmy his joint.

On the investigation to find out stolen goods.

Some interesting ideas - You have worked hard to introduce description to your writing.

→ Spellings please

→ Change your pencil.
It is too light + thick to read.