

Feedback using Siri

Siri can be a very quick way to provide feedback in the form of text

Speeds up the whole process hugely!

Voicenotes are just as effective/

Niamh, I really think there is high quality writing here. I genuinely found it funny, and I'm really impressed. Well done you! Just be careful that you capitalise the right letters, and that you use the correct punctuation. I think there is so much originality in this piece, that it would be a shame for your punctuation to get in the way. There is an effective sardonic tone towards your description of your holiday, which I really like. However your piece ends with the idea that you love this place deep down. That's fair enough, and it's a feeling worth exploring. Perhaps though, you might describe why? Is there something particular you can think of that is loveable? For instance, you described trudging to a shed to access Wi-Fi. Could you perhaps remark on the "irrepressible rural charm" as an example? I think that's what you're getting at with your final thoughts on Cornwall, but just a little turn of phrase could really help convey that feeling to the reader. For more detailed feedback, I have left individual feedback bubbles in your piece. Tap on them to read more. Fantastic work Niamh, and keep it up!

Worksheet

Hi Year 9, I realise the youtube link in the Winter Swans video is inaccessible via the video so you can access it here:
youtube.com/watch?v=i89Q4FQLNho

Link to video lesson below

<https://stichban-muchersint.com/>

